

Benefits of Mentorships/Internships

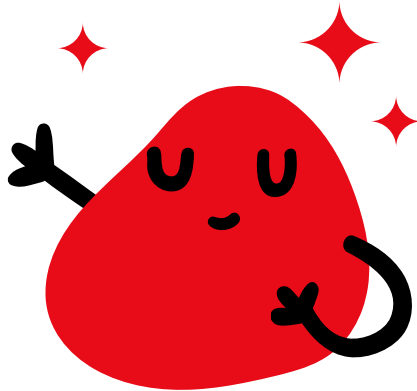

Did you know mentorship programs can help you develop your career path and understand more about your field!

Oh! I was just going to tell you about my new mentorship program. I've learned so much since I started!

I've gotten advice on some of my weaknesses and strengths, received professional guidance, developed so many new skills, AND expanded my professional networks!

I feel so much more confident now that I've gone through this program! I think everyone should have a chance

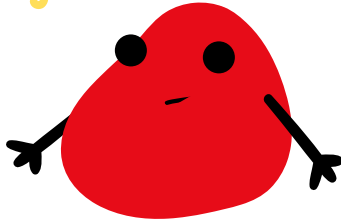

ACDPN

African Canadian Development and Prevention Network

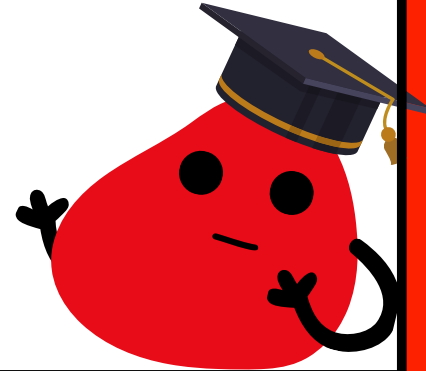

Benefits of Mentorships/Internships

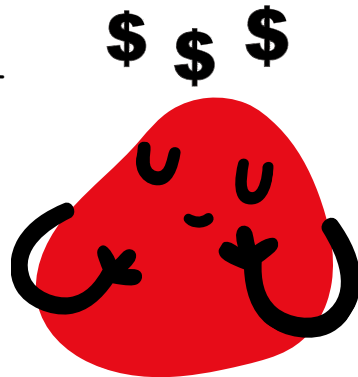

Mentorships and internships can give you the opportunity to work in the field you want to work in later in life.

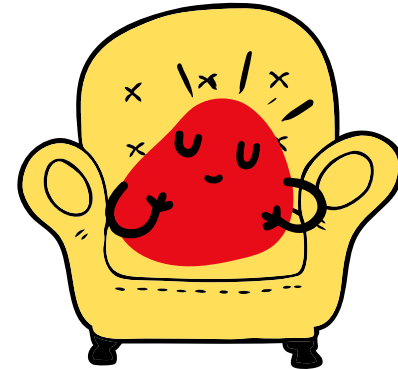

This can help you know whether or not you actually like that field before you step into it in the future.

They can also help you build connections so that you can later work in that organization or get hired somewhere else within that network.

Take some time to look up some internship/mentorship opportunities that interest you. Reach out. It may surprise you what a simple email can do.

ACDPN

African Canadian Development and Prevention Network